Illuminate your spaces with our robust and versatile Bulkhead Lights. Designed for both indoor and outdoor use, these lights feature a protective plastic cage that shields the light source from damage and weather conditions. Originally crafted for maritime environments, our bulkhead lights are now perfect for a variety of settings.

They are ideal for outdoor lighting, making pathways, gardens, and driveways both functional and secure. In industrial areas, such as warehouses and factories, they provide reliable and bright illumination essential for safety and productivity. Commercial spaces, including stairwells, hallways, and parking garages, benefit from their durability and visibility. Homeowners find them great for garages, basements, and outdoor areas, offering a durable lighting solution.
